Forward-looking Statements and Information

Statements contained in this Web site that are not historical statements at the time they are made are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of section 27A of the United States Securities Act of 1933, section 21E of the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, and "forward-looking information" within the meaning of sections 138.3 and following of the Ontario Securities Act. In addition, ITECH CONSEIL CANADA has made in the past and may in the future make written or oral forward-looking statements and provide written or oral forward-looking information, including statements regarding future operating performance, short-term and long-term revenue and earnings performance, the timing of the financial impact of new contracts, backlog, the value of new contract signings, business pipeline and industry growth rates and ITECH CONSEIL CANADA's performance relative thereto. The words "believe," "estimate," "expect," "intend," "anticipate," "foresee," "plan," and similar expressions and variations thereof, identify certain of such forward-looking statements or information, which speak only as of the date on which they are made. In particular, statements relating to future performance are forward-looking statements and forward-looking information. Such forward-looking statements or forward-looking information are based on management's current expectations at the time the statements were originally made or at the time the information was originally provided. Such forward-looking statements or forward-looking information may rely on a number of assumptions concerning future events and are therefore subject to a number of uncertainties and other risk factors, many of which are outside of ITECH CONSEIL CANADA's control. These factors include and are not restricted to the timing and size of new contracts, acquisitions and other corporate developments; the ability to attract and retain qualified members; market competition in the rapidly-evolving information technology industry; general economic and business conditions, foreign exchange and other risks identified from time to time in our quarterly and annual Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Position and Results of Operations ("MD&A"). Actual results may therefore vary materially from the expectations expressed by management and you are cautioned not to place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements or forward-looking information. disclaims any intention or obligation to publicly update or revise its forward-looking statements or forward-looking information, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise.
